

From: C. Andrew Shepp [e-mail redacted]
Sent: Friday, September 24, 2010 9:53 AM
To: Bilski_Guidance
Subject: Software patent guidance

You know, intellectual property patents are bad enough, especially since they seem never to expire.

Software isn't the result of intellect, it is a work-product and is sufficiently protected as such through copyright and trade-secret categories.

What next, body parts?

--

C. Andrew Shepp
Shepp & Associates LLC
www.linkedin.com/in/andrewshepp

Mail and attachments are private communications only voice +1 314 3243139