Subject: extending provisional patent time limit

I am definately in favor of extending the time limit of 12 months to 24 months. I currently have a provisional patent. At first it might seem like plenty of time to market your idea to companies or agents. But, in reality one year goes by quickly when trying to contact and/or respond to many different entities. Sometimes months go by before you recieve a responds from a company. Please do consider extending to 24 months the time limit. It would help us first time or small time inventors. Thank you.
